

CT

State Director, Marc Herzog

The State of Connecticut provides a payment in lieu of taxes to all communities in which State facilities are located. This includes the Connecticut Community Colleges. The payment is determined by a legislatively adopted formula and provides a payment that is clearly lower than the respective taxing rates of the various communities.